Wayne State University Press has proudly published esteemed and award-winning scholarly titles in Jewish studies for nearly 40 years, with a particular focus on folklore and ethnography, literature, Jewish history, Yiddish studies, and Holocaust studies.

In 2023 and 2024, we are thrilled to publish innovative Jewish studies books on topics including Holocaust rescue narratives, queerness and Judaism, material culture, and Jewish American women’s writing. Our authors explore themes from diaspora in Israeli literature to Jewish mysticism in film and folktales in Musar texts. We are proud to feature diverse voices from across the field, and we are actively seeking new proposals, especially on topics related to queer studies, gender, and sexuality; global Judaisms; disability; and cultural studies.

Send proposals to acquisitions editor Sandra Korn (sandra.korn@wayne.edu) and visit our proposal submission guidelines at www.wsupress.wayne.edu/authors.
Jewish Folklore & Ethnology
Edited by Simon J. Bronner

Jewish Folklore & Ethnology is a peer-reviewed annual journal. It features innovative, original analytical studies, essays, and commentaries in English on the diverse ways in which Jewishness is expressed, conceived, transformed, and perceived by Jews and non-Jews through folklore, tradition, and social/cultural practice.

Funny, You Don't Look Funny
Judaism and Humor from the Silent Generation to Millennials
Jennifer Caplan

Across generations, humor has been a place for American Jews to explore the relationship between Jewish identity, practices, and history. Exploring the relationship between humor and American Jewish practice across four generations, Jennifer Caplan identifies a shift from Jewish-specific to American-specific markers. She contends that by adopting a more expansive view of what it means to “do Jewish,” the state and future of American Judaism are much stronger than older models have implied.

Memory Spaces
Visualizing Identity in Jewish Women’s Graphic Narratives
Victoria Aarons

Jewish identity, memory, and place deftly revealed through the lens of Jewish women’s graphic narratives. Highlighting the work of Jewish women graphic novelists and the intricate ways Jewish identity is complicated by gender, memory, generation, and place—that is, the emotional, geographical, and psychological spaces that women inhabit. Victoria Aarons explores Jewish identity, diaspora, mourning, memory, and witness in the works of Sarah Lightman, Liana Finck, Anya Ulinich, Leela Corman, and more.

Bridging Worlds
Poetry and Philosophy in the Works of Immanuel of Rome

Dana W. Fishkin

A radical revisitation of Immanuel of Rome’s biblical exegesis, Mahberet Ha-Tofet Ve-ha-‘Eden.

A study on the interrelation of Immanuel of Rome’s literary work and biblical exegesis to advance a comprehensive original reading of Mahberet Ha-Tofet ve-ha-‘Eden (A Tale of Heaven and Hell). Dana Fishkin explains how Immanuel’s writing serves as a site of cultural negotiation and translation, making complex philosophical ideas about immortality accessible to an educated populace.

From Left to Right
Lucy S. Dawidowicz, the New York Intellectuals, and the Politics of Jewish History

Nancy Sinkoff

Intellectual biography of Holocaust historian Lucy S. Dawidowicz.

From Left to Right: Lucy S. Dawidowicz, the New York Intellectuals, and the Politics of Jewish History is the first comprehensive biography of Dawidowicz (1915–1990), a pioneer historian in the field that is now called Holocaust studies. Dawidowicz, like many other New York intellectuals, was a youthful communist, became an FDR democrat midcentury, and later championed neo-conservatism. Nancy Sinkoff argues that Dawidowicz’s rightward shift emerged out of living in prewar Poland, watching the Holocaust unfold from New York City, and working with displaced persons in postwar Germany.

Wayne State University Press has proudly published esteemed and award-winning scholarly titles in Jewish studies for nearly 40 years, with a particular focus on folklore and ethnography, literature, Jewish history, Yiddish studies, and Holocaust studies.

In 2023 and 2024, we are thrilled to publish innovative Jewish studies books on topics including Holocaust rescue narratives, queerness and Judaism, material culture, and Jewish American women’s writing. Our authors explore themes from diaspora in Israeli literature to Jewish mysticism in film and folktales in Musar texts. We are proud to feature diverse voices from across the field, and we are actively seeking new proposals, especially on topics related to queer studies, gender, and sexuality; global Judaisms; disability; and cultural studies.

Send proposals to acquisitions editor Sandra Korn (sandra.korn@wayne.edu) and visit our proposal submission guidelines at www.wsupress.wayne.edu/authors.
